Thomas Cartwright of 1016 Ridge Crest Drive, Gahanna, Ohio, addressed Mayor Laurie Jadwin, Council President Trenton Weaver, Councilmembers, and staff. He stated that he had researched Department of Homeland Security sources and, to his knowledge, neither the City of Gahanna nor the Gahanna Police Department had entered into 287(g) immigration enforcement cooperation agreements. He expressed hope that this information was correct and presented four questions. He asked whether the Gahanna Police Department had signed any 287(g) enforcement agreements with Immigration and Customs Enforcement, whether the City had discussed or considered signing such agreements, what the City's position was regarding cooperation with ICE to investigate or arrest individuals based solely on immigration status, and whether the City would issue a formal statement on these issues. He thanked Council for the opportunity to speak.

Council President Trenton Weaver thanked Mr. Cartwright. Mayor Laurie Jadwin stated that it was not typically the City's practice to engage in such conversations during the meeting and said that Deputy Chief Moffitt and she would be happy to speak with him following the meeting. Mr. Cartwright expressed his appreciation and thanked them.

She thanked Mayor Jadwin for making the final result a joint Council resolution and mayoral proclamation to demonstrate solidarity within City government. She thanked Council Clerk VanMeter for detailed meeting minutes that provided the public with a thorough account of the discussion of the resolution. She thanked City Attorney Tamilarasan for her efforts and courage in strengthening penalties for distracted driving that causes serious harm, noting that Westerville later followed that example, as well as Grove City and Reynoldsburg. She congratulated the Gahanna Police Department on earning unconditional advanced accreditation, which she described as the gold standard in modern professional policing, noting that the advanced level accreditation required meeting 461 standards, and that the approval was unanimous. She stated that she had worked with Deputy Chief Moffitt and Chief Spence and expressed pride in the department's achievement.
