Gahanna City Council met in Regular Session on Monday, July 15, 2024, in Council Chambers. President of Council Merisa K. Bowers called the meeting to order at 7:01 p.m. Vice President of Council Trenton I. Weaver delivered an Invocation and led members in the Pledge of Allegiance. The agenda was published on July 12, 2024.

Present 7 - Merisa K. Bowers, Jamille Jones, Nancy R. McGregor, Kaylee Padova, Stephen A. Renner, Michael Schnetzer, and Trenton I. Weaver

B. ADDITIONS OR CORRECTIONS TO THE AGENDA:

President Bowers noted that at the conclusion of the Regular Meeting, City Council would call to order the Committee of the Whole.

C. HEARING OF VISITORS:

Rene Harrington of Gahanna, OH, spoke on civil and criminal codes.

Ms. Harrington stated she has been a resident of Gahanna for over 30 years. She explained that she has been experiencing ongoing issues with her neighbor for the past four years. Ms. Harrington reported that she and her guests have been repeatedly harassed in various ways by her neighbor, who Ms. Harrington stated has also violated Gahanna codes. Ms. Harrington chose to overlook these violations in an attempt to maintain civility and peace. Ms. Harrington detailed that her neighbor has called the police numerous times with unfounded complaints about Ms. Harrington, other neighbors, and Ms. Harrington's guests. She noted that this has resulted in her neighbor having a specific officer assigned to handle her frequent and claims. Ms. Harrington's main purpose for addressing the Council was to request updates to the City codes to address these issues. She described several incidents where her neighbor harassed her guests, including photographing their license plates and causing them significant distress. Ms. Harrington admitted that her only true offense was parking within two feet of her neighbor's driveway, which she learned was against code. Ms. Harrington formally requested that the City update the civil and criminal City codes to create protections against such behavior as she reported of her neighbor. She provided specific examples of issues, such as floodlights installed by her neighbor within 12 inches of their property line. These lights are triggered by movement in Ms. Harrington's yard, not her neighbor's, causing blinding illumination. Additionally, Ms. Harrington reported that her neighbor has placed cameras that monitor only Ms. Harrington's yard. Ms. Harrington proposed two specific code updates: first, to establish a light trespass code defining the limitation of light brightness (foot-candle); second, to prohibit garden lights or footpath lights within two to three feet of a property line unless they are shielded or the yards are separated by fencing that blocks the light.

President Bowers noted Ms. Harrington's time was up, explaining that the Hearing of Visitors segment is limited to three minutes per speaker. She invited Ms. Harrington to follow up with an email to the Council to provide additional points and details. President Bowers thanked Ms. Harrington for her comments.

Arlene Sheak of Gahanna, OH, spoke on energy aggregation.

Ms. Sheak addressed the Council to express her gratitude for their research and efforts in promoting environmental stewardship through energy aggregation. She commended the Council for their forward-thinking actions and for setting an example as a model City in many ways. She concluded by thanking the Council for their contributions to a sustainable future.

President Bowers extended the thanks to the administration, acknowledging their hard work on behalf of the Council and the community.

James Mako of Gahanna, OH, spoke on the Energy Aggregation Program; via pre-recorded video display.

Mr. Mako expressed his happiness about living in Gahanna for over 10 years and his appreciation for the wonderful community. He spoke in support of 100% clean energy for the Community Choice Aggregation program. Mr. Mako thanked Council for adopting the municipal renewable aggregation legislation on July 1, 2024. He believed this action would help ensure affordable, reliable, and sustainable energy for the City. He highlighted the benefits of the aggregation process, including the ability of cities to combine their buying power and share knowledge to streamline procurement processes. He noted that the shared experiences among participants could generate positive network effects, such as increased mentorship, credibility, and support for inexperienced buyers. Mr. Mako emphasized that addressing climate change effectively requires the engagement of all actors, big and small. Mr. Mako described the creation of a more promising economic structure for a wide array of energy purchasers. He expressed his belief that aggregating efforts is a better path forward in the battle against climate change, rather than going it alone. He concluded by thanking Council again for making 100% renewable energy a source for the Community Choice Aggregation program and for their commitment to a sustainable future. He encouraged everyone to continue making a difference and leading the way in clean energy adoption.
