Goose Mitigation

Border Collies are used to trigger predator/prey instincts

Lasers, audio deterrents, remote controlled boats used for harassment

CONSISTENCY IS KEY

By implementing a goose mitigation plan, you will:

Decrease waste and bacteria in water

Decrease aggressive behaviors from geese

Discourage both immediate and future nesting

Eviction & Exclusion

Eviction & exclusion allow an animal to self release within their range in accordance with the law

Eviction: Use temporary one-way door to allow animals to exit, but not re-enter

Exclusion: Permanent materials are used to secure previous entry points

Wildlife Collection & Transport

SICK | INJURED | ORPHANED

- Immediate release of healthy animals
- Wildlife collections in public space

OHIO WILDLIFE CENTER HOSPITAL

Animals are transported to the Ohio Wildlife Center hospital, as needed, where they are assessed and treated

Treatment

ANIMAL REUNITING

- Reuniting box is used to keep animals safe and warm while allowing mother to come retrieve the young
- Necessary in and around baby seasons as an alternative or supplement to eviction
- Alternative for animals which might otherwise be orphaned

"We know there are many providers out there willing to trap and euthanize "nuisance" animals, but SCRAM! is the only one we found willing to take the extra time and effort to not only help us but help the animals too! With extremely competitive rates, we think everyone should be using your services. The Meyer Family is happy to provide a glowing endorsement for SCRAM!"

– Urban & Shelley Meyer

“The Columbus Zoo and Aquarium has partnered with SCRAM! for the past three years to reduce the Canada goose population on the zoo’s property. Our goose population has significantly decreased because of this partnership... their strategies for goose eradication really work.”

– Shelly R. (Columbus Zoo & Aquarium)
