ITEMS FROM THE DIRECTOR OF PUBLIC SERVICE

1. Utility Online Bill Pay - Office Payments

ORD-0025-2016 TO AUTHORIZE THE MAYOR TO ENTER INTO CONTRACT WITH OFFICIAL PAYMENTS CORPORATION FOR ONLINE PAY PROVIDER SERVICES; AND TO RESCIND ORD-0129-2013.

Franey said it is a desire to offer online bill pay; in 2013 we pulled together a Committee to evaluate online bill pay and vendors; at that time we chose Official Payments; put legislation through and a contract was signed; for reasons we were unable to implement that contract; we picked the project up in late 2015; Official Payments was the leader again; we are bringing forward another agreement; has a term of 5 years with a one year auto-renewal after that; there are no implementation fees; either party can exit the agreement at any time; $4.75 fee to anyone using it; also wanting to implement e-bill with Official Payments; City will pay $1,000+ per year for them to store the payments all year; if people sign up we will stop sending them a hard copy; will cost us .16-1/2 cents for the e-bill; will save us about 34 cents per bill; will be cost-neutral; will also be offering interactive voice response so someone can call in and pay by card over the phone; will carry a transaction fee that the user will pay; it is the $4.75+$1.50 for the interactive voice; offering all these options; with red flag requirements and with PCI compliance; this is useful for us to get all of the information on file with Official Payments; we will no longer take credit card payments over the phone; added information into the report; we are a part of a group and the results are in the report; 36 separate communities responded and of that 27 communities offered online bill pay and 18 of them passed the fee onto the customer; 12 of them use Official Payments; asked what type of fees they were charging; it varied; one jurisdiction charged $6 flat fee; we feel we are in the ballpark; tonight we are asking for an Ordinance to rescind or repeal the previous legislation to allow us to enter into agreement; Angelou asked if the cost has gone up since the last time; Franey said it has but it does not mean people would not have been paying that fee; the user pays the credit card fee and it could have gone up anyway; Schnetzer said to get the vendor set up they need information; asked if the vendor is getting a resident's social security number (SSN); Franey said for e-bill their billing statement would be hosted by Official Payments; they have all the security for anything they would house; for someone signing up; they would give an email and account number; typical to any online payments; Franey said we do not take social security numbers; may have verified the last four digits to deal with the account holder; Schnetzer asked if that would be shared with the vendor; Franey said the City would not but the user may in setting up things on their end; Angelou asked on the e-bill; would the City news still be attached; Franey confirmed it will still be there; Angelou asked if they will attempt to sell this and if they will do the marketing; Franey said we will be broadcasting it in the updates; Holdren said they have templates we need to push the efforts; they want it to be City-lead; Metzbower asked if there would be efforts to incentivize; Franey said we have potential to save; would encourage that; just being offered as a convenience at this point; Larick said the $4.75 is in what circumstance; Franey said it is per transaction; Larick asked if that was paying by card and by phone; Franey said phone is $6.25 and card is $4.75; Larick asked what they would pay if they came in today; Franey said it would be the $4.75; we will have a terminal in the office; if someone comes to the counter with the new system they will likely need help; Larick asked if we can put off work and manual labor we would want to do that; does not want to charge someone for using the phone which is hands off versus not charging someone who will come into the building; Franey said with the phone the user is paying for the service; Larick said two scenarios - can pay via phone or come into the building and take away from staff to pay less; Franey said we did not choose the fees; this is what they charge if they use the service; Larick would not want to de-incentivize someone for picking up the phone; Leeseberg said his is paid through the bank, asked if there was a change to that; Franey said there would not be a change to that at all; Angelou confirmed people can still write a check and bring it in for no charge; this is just an opportunity; asked if someone chose to come and pay the e-bill at City hall; Franey said would not have to pay via Official Payments; McGregor asked if someone can pay now with a card or by the phone; Franey said they can do that and not be charged currently; McGregor said we do not do monthly billing but we can pay monthly; Franey confirmed; we are also researching how we can set up ACH payments so someone can pull $100 out of their bank each month and then get the balance every quarter; researching that right now; will want all of those answers when we put together the quarterly update; we hope to be able to explain that; Metzbower asked what happens to the email addresses; asked if it was public record; Franey said that would be through Official Payments and that would not be shared at all; Metzbower asked if we would get those email addresses; Holdren said we would not; that is part of the compliance; Renner asked if we are just trying to provide other services or are we looking to push one service over to another; Franey said just offering more services and trying to get credit card numbers and that information out of our billing office; not pushing a service over to another; we do not want the credit card numbers in our office; we want someone else handling the secure information; Renner said it depends on what the relationship the City has with the bank; they can set up a kiosk so someone can swipe it and then the payment is received through US Bank; then there would not be any credit card fees; asked if they have looked at absorbing the fees; Franey said we absorb the fees now; Bury said it varies; may be roughly around $4K a month; would have to double check; said we use Huntington for our merchant services; said we will no longer be swiping the card so the fees related will go away; Larick asked about the cost comparison; Franey said Huntington cannot do the online; they do not offer that like Official Payments do; we have researched that with them; Bury said they were starting a platform but we cannot utilize those services; Angelou asked about other communities using Official Payments; Franey said they were all good; Leeseberg asked if this contract was previously signed and if there were issues getting out of it; Franey said it was and there were no issues.

RECOMMENDATION: Consent Agenda.

2. DISCUSSION ITEM: Water/Sanitary/Sewer Costs

Franey said in 2016 the water and sanitary sewer costs increased by 7.23%; thought it would be good in the report to spell out what Gahanna does compared to the City of Columbus; wanted to pass some information out and give Council an opportunity to ask questions and become more comfortable with our rates (see attached Supporting Document - 2/22/2016); said most people are familiar with our situation; Gahanna is a master meter City; which means Columbus provides us water; the meters are beyond our boundaries; once passed through master meter then Columbus is no longer involved with that water; 152 miles of water lines; we have over 10,000 water meters that we maintain; Gahanna sends sewage outside of our City to Columbus for them to process; Gahanna is responsible for maintaining the collection system within the City of Gahanna; we also manage about 10,000 customer accounts; we have one utility foreman, 7 equipment operators and 3 billing specialists that maintain all of that; want to pass around a document; if you look at it you see the blue line; that line represents the City of Columbus charges to the City of Gahanna since 2008; in orange is the amount that Gahanna is charging our customers each year since 2008; the City of Columbus, when you average their increases you can see a 4.06% increase each year; in 2009 Gahanna lowered the rates; we found ourselves in a situation where we had carryover; we had too much money; needed to buy down some rates; we did that in 2010 and also in 2011; paid close attention to the carryover; then had to begin raising our rates again; we were getting too low; comparing 2008 with the 2016 rate and average it and compound; we raised our rates on average 2.25% each year; in 2008 you see 42% box; the space between is the money we use to maintain everything in the City of Gahanna; in 2016, only $5.02 per thousand gallons stays here in Gahanna; just wanted to give an update where we are; rates may go up next year; the next thing is the chart at the bottom; we looked at an average residential bill; average is 13 thousand gallons; then went out and looked at many other communities and looked at how much it would cost for 13 thousand gallons in another community; where Columbus maintained the water distribution system, the average is $195.01; those six communities are listed in the report; also looked a 11 communities and averaged 13 thousand gallons and the average was $202.89; moral of the story is that our price is competitive; even with the communities where Columbus is maintaining the distribution system; might go up next year; still keeps us competitive; talking about Columbus maintaining, from what we gather, Columbus does not maintain their sanitary lines; Columbus' contract gives the communities a certain number of breaks; Whitehall is permitted 17 breaks in a year; any further after that the community pays for that; if the community has overages for 3 consecutive years the community has to replace the line; Larick said it is clear we have a fair structure in comparison to our neighbors; thanked Franey for the information; Angelou asked if we can see the number of feet of the water line and those demographics; Franey said that information is in the report; McGregor asked how much is Columbus in comparison; Franey said $154.22 is for Columbus; if you live within the City of Columbus; you are charged for outgoing water of what comes in; Schnetzer asked if there was a list of other cities set up like Gahanna; those that are master-meter; Franey said yes; Schnetzer asked about the fee for Columbus and if there was a differentiator; Franey said that is what all master meter communities are charged; Metzbower asked how this was obtained; Franey said Columbus puts out a chart; they put it in cubic feet so there is a conversion; with other communities you have to go online and look at their rates; after we put together what we thought we contacted the communities to ensure that is what they would be charging; Larick said there is a lot of contributors; if you use dramatically less there will be less in the comparative; Leeseberg said meter inspections vary from community to community; Angelou asked what it meant to be a master meter community; Franey said we get water in bulk through those meters; if we were not a master meter community we would be an extension of Columbus; we would not know how they are getting the water to our customers; they would then build our customers; Larick asked if she can do a comparative for water, sewer, trash for comparative communities to include Columbus; Franey said we can do a comparison for those that charge for their refuse; certainly the resident is paying for it through taxes; we can call any that are charging and note which ones are not; Schnetzer said that is an individual agreement; our rate may be different than other communities; Leeseberg said monthly charge is due to can size; can look at changing that; Metzbower said there is a big difference in bulk trash.
