This theme is "both a tribute to the ceaseless work of caregivers and frontline workers during this ongoing pandemic and also a recognition of the thousands of ways that women of all cultures have provided both healing and hope throughout history"; and

Whereas, women in Gahanna have served the community in important capacities throughout the City's history in education, healthcare, philanthropy, historic and environmental preservation, professional, service, and civic roles; and

Whereas, due to the efforts of the "Herb Ladies," Jane Geroux, Lucy Seeds, Ruth Rauchenstein, Trudy Miller and Ruth Wilke, our community was put on the map through their efforts and love of herbs, teaching all over the State of Ohio on these incredible plants and their uses; and

Whereas, fifty years ago, Jane "Bunny" Geroux led a successful campaign to establish Gahanna as the Herb Capital of Ohio with an official declaration on December 18, 1972 by the State Legislature, in addition to her work to preserve the history of Gahanna; and

Whereas, Lucy Seeds, dedicated to the preservation of natural resources and the establishment and protection of parkland, was the first female Director of Parks & Recreation for the City of Gahanna and was instrumental in the City's acquisition of the land that is now Gahanna Woods; and

Whereas, women serve the City as dedicated public servants in every municipal department - Public Service & Engineering, Parks & Recreation, Economic Development & Planning, Administrative Services & Finance, Public Safety & Law, and the offices of the Mayor and Council, all of whom contribute to the vibrancy, safety, and welfare of residents and visitors to the City of Gahanna; and

Whereas, women serve Gahanna and our surrounding areas as first responders in the roles of dispatchers, medics, and law enforcement officers to ensure the health and safety of members of our community, with 22 women serving as dispatchers, support staff and police officers within the Department of Public Safety and Gahanna Division of Police, making up over 27% of the Department; and
